

NEW Rising Stars

A leadership development program for mid-level women and men

NEW Rising Stars is a unique leadership development opportunity for mid-level women and men in retail, consumer goods, financial services and technology. The program helps mid-career professionals re-energize and expand their leadership capacity by focusing on competencies tied to executive success.

NEW Rising Stars is anchored on the NEW Career Accelerator Model™, created in partnership with the renowned Center for Creative Leadership. The model outlines eight leadership competencies and five derailment factors tied to executive success.

The highly engaging NEW Rising Stars program provides straightforward feedback and practical learning on the skills necessary to succeed in mid-career positions and promotes career advancement.

This career catalyst includes an orientation webinar, one in-person session in Nashville, two interactive learning webinars and a one-on-one executive coaching session informed by a personal 360 assessment.

Participants will discover insights into their own leadership journeys, leading to greater recognition and career success. Registration closes February 27, 2019.

“Prior to NEW Rising Stars, I felt like I was in a washing machine during the wash cycle. I left with a revitalized sense of purpose and a renewed spirit.”

Kathy Campbell
Perdue Foods

NEW Rising Stars offers

Who should participate

- Mid-level managers or experienced contributors in retail, consumer goods, financial services and technology
- Women and men with at least 3-5 years of experience
- Mid-career professionals with aspirations to contribute at a higher level
- Mid-level leaders with a willingness to listen, learn and be challenged to grow and achieve professional excellence

Participants will

- Explore how to make effective decisions and sharpen their influence
- Complete a 360 assessment and develop a grounded approach for long-term development
- Work with an executive coach
- Learn how to create and use networks as a source of information and power
- Develop networking relationships with senior executives, subject-matter experts and other high-potential talent

Learning objectives

- Increase self-awareness through insightful feedback on job-related strengths and areas for development
- Advance individual knowledge of breakthrough industry trends
- Expand network of like-minded industry professionals

Tuition and registration

Tuition is $2,995, including on-site meals and course materials. Travel and lodging expenses for on-site meeting are not included.

Email NEW Director of Learning & Development Chris Sopa at csopa@newonline.org for details.

newonline.org/risingstars

2019 learning schedule

Orientation webinar	March 6, 10:30 am–12:00 pm ET
One-on-one coaching session	90 minutes, individually scheduled
On-site learning	May 15–May 17, Loews Vanderbilt Hotel, Nashville
Virtual learning	June 27 and August 8, 10:30 am–12:00 pm ET